

Pavel Arakelian is a top European jazzman of the Belarusian origin, a multi-award holder as the best saxophone player of Belarus. Along with being a famous musician, brisk performer and talented composer, Pavel is greatly loved by his students for his unforgettable art & performance classes given within his teaching activities.

Pavel is a winner of various national and international competitions and is regularly invited to perform at top jazz festivals all over the world (Germany, England, Poland, Italy, Czech Republic, Ukraine, Lithuania, etc.).

Pavel is an organizer of an international jazz festival called "Sax Forum" (please enjoy here: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=a9Twh0kfCHw>).

He had the honor of performing along with such musicians as Stefan Stoppok, FM Einheit, Eric Lewis, Deborah Brown, Mats Gustafsson and many more.

While Pavel's participation in the famous Belarusian groups usually makes every such concert sold-out attracting his admirers, he still finds the time to lead his own project called The Outsiders (please enjoy a sample here: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=lcxBjGYpWdg>).

Apart from his round-the-clock musical activities, Pavel is an active social contributor. Thus, he's been an avid supporter of Ukraine right after the events of 2014. His participation in the Ukrainian X-Factor TV show won him additional love from his supporters (please enjoy here: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=llGPvHYyUmg>).

Besides, during 2020 the musician was dubbed The President of the Belarusian Court-Yards for his volunteering concerts in Minsk, supporting people during the famous protesting activities (please enjoy here: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=3b1dFZ1Ynmg>).

While he is now banned in Belarus for his enormous popularity with the people and his unique charisma, you can meet Pavel more frequently on various European stages.

Apart from his secret jam sessions in Vilnius, where Pavel is happy to share his mastery with his young Lithuanian colleagues, the musician is a frequent guest at wider music events in the city. Pavel is always happy to catch up with his audience to exchange views on modern jazz trends over a cup of coffee or a glass of bourbon.

Pavel Arakelian is keen on various initiatives and experiments and is excited to share his and his jazz-band's 'The Outsiders' experience with those willing to improve their performance mastery, those fine-tuning their artistic tastes, striving to unleash their potential on a big stage, or just genuine jazz connoisseurs. Pavel's unique performance and teaching approach is well reflected in his proprietary interpretations of world famous hits and unforgettable improvisations accompanied by the jazz-man's playing the saxophone, the piano and doing vocals, leaving no one from the audience unengaged. Get ready for an interactive performance session!

The musician speaks Belarusian, Russian, English and a bit of Lithuanian.

Pavel is regularly featured by various media:

- <https://www.lrt.lt/mediateka/irasas/2000295198/man-patinka-dziazas-saksofoninkas-is-baltarusijos-pavel-arakelian-netukus-lietuva-dominuos-europoje-improvizacines-muzikos-srityje>
- <https://belsat.eu/ru/news/18-01-2024-pavel-arakelyan-dast-dzhazu-v-vilnyuse>
- <https://euroradio.fm/ru/muzykant-pavel-arakelyan-uekhal-iz-belarusi-v-litvu>

Additional links:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=AuLuXZMi7-g>

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=zEg6R-xr0zA>

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=r62Tql_kTgg

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=w7BGYf4auNk>